KANSAS CITY LOST THE FIRST GAME TO DETROIT.

Eagan Was Hit at Critical Times and Was Given Ragged Support-After Taking a Good Lead in the First the Blues Lost.

DETROIT, MICH., July 12.—(Special.)
"Rip" Eagan and "Noodles" Hahn fought a duel at Bennett park to-day. The ex-Detroiter, who has won the majority of his games this season, was compelled to bend the knee to the Stallings tribe. At critical stages he was awarded ragged support and the locals, too, punched the ball on the nose when hits meant runs. The contest was not settled until the last of the enemy's ships had been sunk, Hahn losing control at the moment when he should have been at his best.

Manager Stallings assigned Sharrott to look after left, Turner being retained in center and Wilson on second. Dungan played a fine game, catching three flies and as sisting in two rundowns between third and home. The entire Detroit infield played a faultless game. Hahn himself was responsible for at least four runs, three be ing bases on balls and one an awful throw Thrice during as many days have the opposing teams scored three runs in a bunch early in the contest, and thrice have the oposing combinations been heaten. The Cowboys garnered three in the first round on two bases on balls, a sacrifice, a single and Wilson's triple. Wilson essayed to score on O'Hagan's fly to Dungan, but found the hearse at the plate waiting to drag him to the morgue. That was a fine start. The Wolverines did not break into the game until the fifth when a combination of four singles, three saffron misolays and a hit misplays and a hit by pitcher, chased in four runs, giving them a lead of one.

The tail-enders on the batting list hopped on Eagan wickedly in the sixth. Twineham and Hahn rapped the ball safely, scoring on Sharrott's jab along the left line for three sacks. Dungan accepted a base, drew a throw to second and Sharrott demonstrated that he is quick by scoring. They took another in the eighth on Ganzel's double, a sacrifice and O'Hagan's bad throw to the plate. The Cowboys did not score again until the seventh, when Hahn's wild throw, a hit and an out sent in a run. Two were added to the eighth on a hit, a base on balls and a double and one in the ninth which McVicker opened with a hit. Viox was passed to first, Eagan forced Viox and McVicker scored on Slagie's grounder, which Hahn dropped and threw badly to the plate. Wilson, who ran for Eagan, was on third when Frisbee sent a fly to short right, which Dungan smothered, and the runner was caught three feet from the plate, Hines, Dillard and Twineham taking part in the play. SECOND WEEK OF CONCERTS. Auspicious Opening With a Large Attendance of Workingmen and Families at Budd Park.

The second week of the city concerts has opened auspiciously, and the expectations aroused by the first week's attendance were more than realized last night. It would be difficult to estimate the number of people who went out to Budd park last night to enjoy the outing and the concert by James' Military band. Scattered thickly about the open grassy space to the south of the bandstand were little groups resting on the benches or the grass, while farther down near the edge of the campus and on down near the edge of the campus and on either side of the pavilion among the trees, where the music reany sounded the best, were other groups and couples occupying the benches or promenading back and forth in the shadows.

Children were there in numbers playing in and out among the crowd in the light of the four big lamps above the platform of the pavilion, and many family groups, in which could be found the bronzed fnees and muscular hands of workingmen, showed that the city concerts were reaching the ones they were especially provided for. The audience was more appreciative than critical. The "Irelian War Dance," with its aboriginal sounding tum tum and exciting climax of pistol shots greatly pleased the children and called for a hearty encore from all. encore from all.

LUCKY DAY FOR THREE MEN. Thirteenth of July Without Its III Omen for James Brown, James Reed and Tom Clark.

Ordinarily the number thirteen is accredited with being ill omened by the superstitious, and all sorts of sorrowful and tragic events are supposed to be connected with it. The 13th day of July, however, is one that at least three men will look upon as the sun rises this morning with far different feeling than they had expected a short time ago. For to-day these three men were to have been hanged for the crime of murder, and the sunlight of the thirteenth day of the month was to have been their last sight of earth. James Brown was to have paid the penalty for killing Henry Prather; James Reed was sentenced to death for murdering Mrs. Blakely, and Tom Clark was to yield life for life in expistion of the Lizzie Hatch murder. All of these cases have been appealed and stays of sentence granted.

BOTH SIDES OF CANADIAN RATE WAR PRESENTED.

nterstate Commissioners Hear Representatives of the American Roads and the Canadian Paeific-Railroad News.

WASHINGTON, July 12.-D. B. Caldwell, chairman of the Western Passenger Association; P. S. Eustis, general passenger igent of the Burlington; John Sebastian, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, and George H. Heaford, general pas-senger agent of the Milwaukee, had a conference with the interstate commerce commission upon the subject of the Westrn passenger rate war which has been in progress for some time between the West-ern American lines on the one side and the Canadian Pacific railway on the other. The war has reached a ruinous stage for all parties concerned, and embraces rates all parties concerned, and embraces rates from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, but the lines west of Chicago are most largely affected. The representatives of the American lines did not file any petition or complaint, but explained to the commission the situation. The commission has no authority in the matter except to order an investigation of the competition which has reached such grave proportions, or, perhaps, become a mediation between the rival companies for a settlement. The Canadian Pacific Company, by its general he rival companies for a settlement. The Canadian Pacific Company, by its general passenger traffic manager, D. McNichol, and attorney, A. C. Raymond, also conferred with the commission to-day and gave their view of the rate war. There were also conferences between Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Nichol, but so far nothing like an understanding has been reached.

CUT IN HARD COAL RATES.

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Selling Cheap Coal at Several Western Cities.

NEW YORK, July 12.-President Samuel Sloan and Vice President Holden, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, when questioned about the cut in coal prices made by their company at Du-luth, Chicago and Milwaukee, intimated very broadly that the Lackawanna was doing openly what other companies had undertaken to do under cover. Vice President Holden said that the Lackawanna was asking $4 for stove coal at the docks. He asking $4 for stove coal at the docks. He denied the current reports that his company had sold stove coal as low as $2.5 or $2.50 per ton.

While the reductions in the price of coal delivered only alongside in Western ports, are not regarded as important in themselves, officers of the other coal carrying companies express the fear that the cut rates may extend into the Eastern market and cause a serious demoralization. Most of the companies are meeting the Lackawanna's open cut in the West, and they deciare that there is no profit for anybody in the figures quoted.

Several of the coal presidents were in consultation informally yesterday regarding the advisability of calling a meeting to consider measures for the restoration of farmony. No action was agreed upon, however.

MORE TROUBLE THREATENED. Maple Leaf Will Retaliate for Reduc-

CHICAGO, July 12.-The Chicago Great Western to-day announced that it would make the same reduction in rates between Chicago and Omaha as the Rock Island might make between Chicago and St. Paul. The Great Western claims to be just as good a road into Omaha as the Rock Island is to St. Paul, and declares that the latter road has no right to make the rates for the other St. Paul lines, which have a shorter mileage.

The Rock Island is dissatisfied with its The Rock Island is dissatished with its present volume of business out of St. Paul and says it will have its share. Owing to the open reduction of $\mathbb{Z}$ in the rates to Kansas City, it is tolerably certain that the Omaha rates will be similarly reduced apart from the threatened trouble by the St. Paul lines.

TO CANCEL ALL CONTRACTS. Cut Rates of Western Freight Lines to Be Absolutely Withdrawn

July 15. The date of effectiveness of the Western freight agreement has been advanced ten days, and cut rates will be withdrawn aft-er July 15. The general offices of the different roads have given ironclad instructions to all representatives to accept no tions to all representatives to accept no shipments at less than tariff rates after that date regardless of any contracts with shippers. This means a cancellation of many contracts and a return to normal tariffs, although in a few instances the normal tariffs will not be restored before July 25, as this time will be required to give the necessary legal notice of advances in rates to the interstate commerce commission.

The trans-Missouri freight rate committee held a meeting at the Coates House yesterday to consider the matter of abolishing free switching at non-competitive points, but took no action in the matter because several of the lines were not repbecause several of the lines were not represented. The meeting adjourned last evening and no further effort will be made to dispose of the question of free switching until after the general officers of the different roads have all returned from their summer vacations. Several of the roads were represented yesterday by officers unauthorized to act and others had no representation whatever at the meeting.

THE SUGAR RATE FIGHT WON. Tariffs to Be Advanced to Normal

Figures, Preserving 3-Cent Differential July 25. The Pittsburg & Gulf and the Memphis

Until July 25, the reduced rates of 22 cents to Kansas City and 25 cents to Omaha will remain in effect.

Panama and Sunset Roads Fight. Panama and Sunset Roads Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., July 12.—The Chronicle says: Another serious disagreement has arisen between the Panama railroad and the Southern Pacific company, as a result of which both lines have announced a big reduction in rates from points in California. The Panama line, in conjunction with the Pacific Mall Steamship Company, has issued a new freight tariff containing reductions in many of the most important commodities which help to form the bulk of the freight handled by water between here and the Atlantic seaboard, and for its own protection, the Southern Pacific has been compelled to meet many of the reductions.

Teunk Line Roads' Meeting NEW YORK, July 12.-A meeting of the frunk Line Association is being held here to-day. Considerable interest attaches to the meeting because of the announcement that heroic measures will be taken to bring about a readjustment of the Northwest rate situation. The attitude of the Canadian Pacific road will be thoroughly gone into, it is said, and every effort will be made to put a stop to the present condition of affairs. Interested roads aver that the cut in rates has demoralized every line in the Northwest with the result that the tariffs and schedules are being disregarded.

WARRANTS FOR THEM ALL Police Judge Burnham Orders the Arrest of Fifteen Members of Two

Quarreling Families. For many months past Mrs. Mary Lesour, of 1626 Cottage avenue, has been giving pink teas, Kensingtons and authors' readings under great difficulties. She is fond of society and her entertainments are always well attended. A spacious porch surrounding her residence affords a delightful place for her guests to gossip pleasantly, but the surroundings are such that Mrs. Lesour has finally been compelled to suspend her social functions.

The Dunns and the Gradys are the cause of it. For over five years past a vendetta has been on. James Dunn and his clan live at 1625 Cottage avenue, and the Grady outfit, headed by Pat, a saioonkeeper, at 1627. Time and time again the factions have met in combat. Blackened eyes, splittlips and torn scalps have kept doctors busy and the justices of the peace have reaped a harvest of fees in trying to settle the difficulties.

Last Saturday Mrs. Lesour was entertaining friends, when the feud broke out afresh. Mrs. Dunn used language of such virility that Mrs. Lesour and her guests were compelled to retire from the portico.

Monday Mrs. Lesour appealed to the police for protection and was advised to swear to a complaint charging Mrs. Dunn with disturbing the peace. She did so, and yesterday morning in police court Judge Burnham took a hand. He listened to Mrs. Lesour's evidence, "sized up" the Gradys and the Dunns and their respective adherents, and then caused consternation in their ranks by ordering warrants issued for the arrest of every Grady and Dunn living on Cottage avenue.

"I am tired of this feud." said the judge, "and I propose to settle it in the morning." "I am tired of this feud." said the judge, "and I propose to settle it in the morning." To Nelson Crews, the police clerk, Dunn whispered: "Grady is a divil! He's tryin' to make out that I'm an A. P. A. That's the whole trouble."

The police court will be crowded this morning, for everybody living in the vicinity is interested in the case. Fourteen warrants were issued and forty witnesses subpoenaed. court will be crowded this Until recently he had been employed as a laborer on the Belt line, but since receiving his discharged he had been dispendent.

Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock his wife found him sitting in a chair in a stupor and Dr. Sawyer was called in. He pronounced it a case of morphine poisoning and by noon had the old man on his feet and basking in the surshine.

Last evening at 8 o'clock his wife again found him in a state of collapse and with the seal of death apparently on his face. The police ambulance brought him to the Central station and when he was placed on the stretcher only a faint spark of life remained. Police Surgeon Pierce managed to revive him by using heroic methods, and Delougherty, having twice failed to explore the country behind, the veil by the morphine route, is now strong enough to make another attempt with a more potent polson. marred by his fondness for drink.
